1. Knowledge about BA role & skills
They want to see if you understand what a BA does and how you fit into the job. Expect questions like:

What does a Business Analyst do?

What is the difference between functional and non-functional requirements?

How do you gather requirements from stakeholders?

What tools or techniques do you know for requirement analysis (ex: SWOT, UML, Use Cases, User Stories)?

👉 2. Problem-solving & real-life scenarios
They may give you situations and ask how you'd handle them:

If two stakeholders have conflicting requirements, how do you manage it?

How would you explain a technical requirement to a non-technical person?

Imagine you are asked to improve an existing process — how will you approach it?

👉 3. General / HR Questions
These check your communication, teamwork, and attitude:

Tell me about yourself.

Why do you want to be a Business Analyst?

What are your strengths and weaknesses?

Why should we hire you as a BA?

Where do you see yourself in 5 years?

👉 4. (Optional but common) Tools & Methods
If they go a bit technical, they might ask if you know:

SQL basics (for data analysis).

Agile/Scrum concepts (user stories, sprint planning).

Documentation tools (Jira, Trello, Confluence, Excel).

⚡ Tips for you:

Show good communication (BA is all about clear communication).

Talk about requirement gathering, documentation, stakeholder management even if you don't have experience — show understanding.

If you don't know something, explain how you would logically handle it.
